

Top 5 Sources of Workplace Injuries in Oregon

Accepted disabling workers' compensation claims (2013)

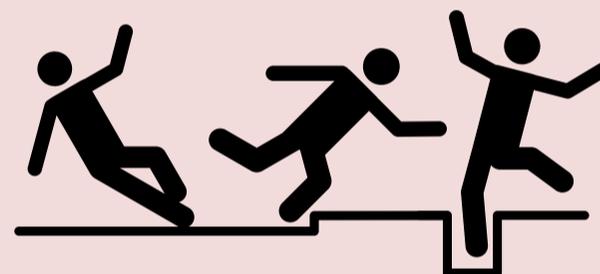

Bodily motion or position of the worker: 3,755

Injuries typically happened during a single episode when the worker was bending, crawling, reaching, or twisting.

Floors, walkways, ground surfaces: 2,087

Floors and floor openings were the source for the largest proportion of these injuries.

Containers: 2,028

Boxes, crates, and cartons were the source for the largest proportion of these injuries.

Person, other than injured worker: 1,502

Patients in health care facilities were the source for the largest proportion of these injuries.

Highway vehicle, motorized: 1,061

Freight hauling and utility trucks were the source for the largest proportion of these injuries.

