Lessons Learned:

Oregon OSHA Safety Compliance Officer, Renee Stapleton, presented on an accident investigation.

Continuing Business:

Status of rule making –

- Rulemaking updates can be found at:
<http://www.cbs.state.or.us/osha/pdf/rules/2010development.pdf>.
- Peggy distributed copies of:
  - A news release from Federal OSHA temporarily withdrawing the proposed musculoskeletal disorders (MSD) column from injury and illness logs (Form 300).
  - An article regarding Federal OSHA withdrawing its proposed interpretation of its noise standard.

- An article announcing the approval by the ANSI committee and awaiting final approval of a revised standard for the design and manufacture of mast climbing platforms (ANSI A92.9).

Cranes and Derricks Rule: Ron Haverkost provided an update. Ron confirmed with Federal OSHA Region X that forklifts used with a winch and hook falls under this rule.

- There is a publication (guide) being put together and awaiting comments from the Crane Advisory Committee and they will be meeting again in February.

Overnight Hospitalizations Report:

Dianna Gray provided the committee with a summary of overnight hospitalizations reported to Oregon OSHA field offices during the last month that included the industry, type of injury and the mechanism of injury. In January, there were multiple fatalities due to shootings and heart attacks.

Roundtable: -

Chris Ottoson – Oregon OSHA staff just received training on the Propane rule and Chris suggested that safety and health issues around propane should be reviewed.

Marilyn Schuster- Marilyn read about an accident that happened in Salem, MA where workers were installing panels and the contract specified that a certain screw be used. The workers did not follow and used different screws which failed and a panel fell onto a worker. A reminder how small things can be terribly important.

Dede Montgomery – University of Washington received funding from NIOSH for ERC and is looking for new folks to sit on the board. The board meets primarily on-line/phone and there's one meeting in Seattle, which is funded. Please let her know if you are interested.

Barry Moreland – Thanked Dianna Gray for her reports on accidents as its useful information.

Eliot Lapidus – Reminded the group about the GOSH conference to sign up to volunteer.

Roy Kroker – Spoke about Oregon OSHA consultative services and Public Education. On-line classes are available and being enhanced. Please send suggestions and comments to him (roy.c.kroker@state.or.us).
