PROGRAM DIRECTIVE

Program Directive A-222
Issued June 22, 1998
Revised December 12, 2018

SUBJECT: Guidelines for Scheduling and Conducting Inspections of Agriculture Labor Housing.

AFFECTED CODES/DIRECTIVES: OAR 437-004-1120, Agricultural Labor Housing and Related Facilities
PD-219, Complaint Policies and Procedures
ORS 658.705 to 658.805, Farmworker Camps
ORS 654.005(8), Place of Employment

PURPOSE: To establish and implement procedures and guidelines for inspecting agricultural labor housing by Oregon OSHA personnel.

BACKGROUND: This directive was developed to address increased concerns regarding agricultural labor housing conditions in the state and to modify current scheduling and inspection criteria to more effectively identify and eliminate below-standard housing.

ACTION: This directive applies to agricultural labor housing as defined in ORS 654.005, ORS 658.705, and OAR 437-004-1120.

Oregon OSHA will ensure that all compliance officers (COs) conducting agricultural labor housing inspections are provided with this directive and instructed in all agricultural labor housing rules and any other applicable rules, letters of interpretation, memorandums of understanding, and other pertinent directives related to agricultural labor housing prior to conducting housing inspections.

Labor housing and related facilities: Any place or area of land where there are living areas, manufactured or prefabricated structures, or other housing provided by a farmer, farm labor contractor, agricultural employer, or other person in connection with the recruitment of workers on an agricultural establishment. (See OAR 437-004-1120 for applicable registration requirements and exemptions).
A. Training:

Information on agricultural labor housing will be given to COs during their basic training, ongoing training, and as required to ensure an adequate understanding of the rules and encourage consistent enforcement.

B. Scheduling:

The procedures outlined in Division 1 and the Oregon OSHA Field Inspection Reference Manual (FIRM) for scheduling inspections in general industry, agriculture, and construction establishments will not be used in scheduling inspections of agricultural labor housing. Housing operations tend to be seasonal and of short duration, affected by type and location of crops and duration of the major work activity or harvest seasons.

In order to effectively schedule agricultural labor housing for inspection the following guidelines will be used:

1. When Oregon OSHA receives a complaint alleging violations at agricultural labor housing locations, the procedures outlined in Program Directive A-219 (Complaint Policies and Procedures) and those in the FIRM will be followed. If the housing is required to be registered but it is not registered, a comprehensive inspection will be conducted.

2. When Oregon OSHA receives a complaint or referral about agricultural workers being housed at a location that is not registered housing, a comprehensive inspection will be initiated. If upon entering the site the CO finds that the housing is registered or is exempt from registration, they will contact their enforcement manager, or their designee, for instructions prior to continuing with the inspection.

3. When a referral is received, the referral procedures outlined in the FIRM will be followed.

4. Due to the short duration of these operations, every effort will be made to process complaints and referrals concerning alleged violations and notices of unregistered agricultural labor housing as quickly as possible.

5. Oregon OSHA annually produces a scheduling list for agricultural labor housing. The following criteria will be used to produce the list:
a. The location is currently registered with Oregon OSHA as agricultural labor housing and has not received a comprehensive inspection in the previous 24 months; or

b. The location is currently registered with Oregon OSHA as agricultural labor housing, and on their most recent comprehensive inspection received citations with violations having a point value totaling five or more. Violations will be assigned the following point values:

   - Willful: 5
   - Failure-to-Abate: 5
   - Repeat: 2.5
   - Serious: 2.5
   - Other-than-Serious: 0.5

c. The list will be used by the enforcement managers, or their designees, to assign agricultural labor housing for programmed inspections. The enforcement managers, or their designees, will consider the occupancy dates as listed on the camp registration application when determining the timing of and priority for ranking inspections.

6. If during an inspection of an agricultural operation, the CO observes serious safety violations related to agricultural labor housing at the location, a partial inspection will be conducted to address the serious items. If the housing is required to be registered and is not registered, a comprehensive inspection will be conducted. If the CO does not have the knowledge or training to conduct the housing inspection, a referral will be made to the appropriate field office.

7. All inspections that result in a citation of willful, repeat, or serious violations will be considered for follow-up inspections.

C. Inspections:

   All inspections (scheduled, complaint, or referral) will include, but are not limited to, the following actions:

   1. Pre-Inspection:
a. Evaluate the best time for conducting the inspection, taking into consideration the crop or activity season, type of operation, occupancy period if known, and the optimum time of day to ensure the presence of an adequate number of occupants.

b. Evaluate the need for and availability of an interpreter to be used during interviews with occupants and for communication with the owner or operator of the camp.

Do not rely on the employer, employer representative or an employee as an interpreter. Only use Oregon OSHA approved interpreters.

c. Evaluate the need for inspection assistance based on size of facility, past history, timing of the visit, and other applicable considerations.

NOTE: COs will work with their enforcement manager, or designee, to coordinate their work based on a consideration of these factors, including the best use of resources.

2. During Inspection:

   a. Conduct inspections in accordance with all applicable rules and directives.

   b. Document the relationships among the property owner, camp operator and the occupants related to employment and occupancy of the housing.

   c. Because of the seasonal and transitory nature of agricultural work, the CO may arrive on site and find the housing is not currently occupied. In these circumstances, if the CO can substantiate exposure and employer knowledge by asking the same questions asked on any other type of inspection, the CO should continue with the inspection. If the CO is not able to substantiate these elements, but still has concerns about hazards identified, the CO should continue to document the hazards and consider writing a hazard letter.
d. Collect information necessary to make pertinent referrals within Oregon OSHA or to other agencies. (For example, documentation of pesticide spray records for possible referral to Oregon OSHA’s pesticide emphasis program; identification of concerns about public or private water systems for potential referral to the system’s regulating agency - as listed on the OHA-DWS website; or, information about potential deficiencies in the requirements as listed in Attachment 1 to PD A-222 for potential referral to BOLI/WHD.)

e. Conduct interviews with occupants, using an interpreter if necessary.

f. In housing sites with a large number of separate sleeping places, inspect a representative number of each type of sleeping place to assess the condition of the camp.

g. Use the Labor Housing Inspection Checklist and provide a copy of the completed checklist to the employer/housing operator.

NOTE: COs will work with their manager, or designee, to determine appropriate actions in all of the above situations.

3. Post-Inspection:

a. Complete paperwork in accordance with all applicable rules and directives.

b. Inspections conducted based on discovery during an inspection of an agriculture operation will be recorded as either “programmed related” or “unprogrammed related” as appropriate.

c. All agricultural labor housing inspections will be identified in OTIS by checking the checkbox for “Migrant Camp” on the visit data tab and by entering “S-06 Fixed” and “S-12 Employer Rep Name” in the Optional information under the Related/Optional tab.

d. Referrals:
i. Oregon Bureau of Labor and Industry (BOLI) Wage and Hour Division (WHD). Enforcement managers or their designees, will provide referrals to BOLI/ WHD when deficiencies in the BOLI rule requirements are observed. See Attachment 1 to this PD for a list of potential WHD-related deficiencies.

v. Reports about potential water quality problems can be made to the regulating agency for the system identified on the https://yourwater.oregon.gov/ website or to Oregon Health Authority’s Drinking Water Services (OHA/DWS) at 971-673-0405.

D. Housing Closure
ORS 658.790(1) states that when agricultural labor housing is ordered vacated by any government agency authorized to enforce building, health, or safety standards, because the housing is not habitable, the housing operator will provide lodging without charge that meets Oregon OSHA standards for seven days or until the housing is made habitable, whichever is less. See OAR 437-004-1120 (24).

When a CO believes that housing should be closed because it is not habitable they must consult with an enforcement manager, or their designee, to receive approval to close the housing.

When a CO closes housing because it is not habitable they will post a “Housing Closure Notice” (Attachment 2) at the site and issue an “Order to Provide Lodging” (Attachment 3) to the housing operator. Posting of “Housing Closure Notice” will be reported to the Central office using the same procedures as for reporting a “Red Warning Notice.”

EVALUATION: The agricultural labor housing program directive will be evaluated annually to determine if the elements of effective, efficient, and consistent enforcement inspections are being met, and if not, that those elements are identified and measures taken to correct deficiencies.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This directive is effective immediately and will remain in effect until canceled or superseded.
